

AXA Management Liability Policy

AXA's Management Liability Policy (MLP) is about proactively helping our policyholders manage their people, contracts, premises and data, empowering them to confidently identify the risks and vulnerabilities that could cause them difficulties – and should claims arise, providing protection against them.

The AXA MLP protects the organisation and its directors and officers if claims arise but also helps policyholders tackle many issues before they become claims, and even stop them from becoming claims at all.

Unique to the AXA MLP is access to rradar, a specialist litigation and commercial law firm. rradar offers a wide range of proactive services under the policy to manage and support policyholders through any business issues they may face. Using the rradar services will enable policyholders to understand and address matters that, if left or not handled correctly, could potentially lead to a claim being made against them or their organisation.
